THE SIGN QUESTION.

Attorney J. Alfred Magoon and Charles R. Frazier were with the acting governor yesterday afternoon, discussing the sign board proposition. The acting governor adheres to his policy of preventing erection of signs on land over which the government has any control and says that the public should see to it that unsightly advertisements do not bring in any returns to those who place them.

MORE SUGAR FAILURES.

PARIS, August 3.—There are further serious sugar failures following a period of gigantic speculation. The market is disorganized and a syndicate of brokers have requested the government to intervene to prevent the extension of the crisis.

THE YELLOW FEVER ROSTER.

NEW ORLEANS, August 3.—The deaths from yellow fever yesterday were mostly among poor Italians. There will be no recourse to Federal control unless the condition becomes more serious.

JAPANESE AND PANAMA.

TOKIO, August 3.—Emigration companies here protest against sending laborers to Panama as the financial arrangements are not satisfactory and the place is unsanitary.

A DYING PYTHIAN.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 3.—General James Richards Carnahan, head of the uniform rank of the Knights of Pythias, is dying.

General James Richards Carnahan was born in Tippecanoe, Ind., November 18, 1840. He was the son of Rev. James Aikman and Martha A. Carnahan. He was educated at Wabash College. He left college in 1861 and enlisted as a private in the 11th Infantry, and was mustered out in 1865 with the rank of captain. He re-entered Wabash College and graduated in June, 1866, and the next year graduated at the Indiana Law School. He was Commander of the Department of Indiana, Grand Army of the Republic, for two years, 1882-3; Adjutant General of Indiana and Brigadier General Commanding the National Guard of Indiana, 1881-5; elected Major General Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, May 1, 1884, and continuously ever since. He was United States Commissioner for Indiana for the Cotton Centennial Exposition at New Orleans in 1884-5 and has been the Commissioner for Indiana for the Chickamauga National Military Park since 1894. He has been president of the board of trustees of the Indiana State Soldiers' Home since 1895. He married November 7, 1867, Susan Elizabeth Patterson. His home has been in Indianapolis ever since. He was by profession, a lawyer.

TRENT STILL REFUSES TO PAY

Johnson to wait a little while until I could communicate with the chairman of the Board of Supervisors on the subject. Then as quickly as it could be done, a letter was dictated and typed, and then handed to Chairman Smith in his office by my young lady stenographer. He read the letter, and asked her to say to me that he would be down to see me in a few minutes.

"Chairman Smith failed to come to see me, and the next I heard of the matter, officially was when Mr. Johnson appeared again about three or half-past three in the afternoon with the same warrant, but with additional endorsements on it over the signatures of the chairman and the clerk of the Board, reciting that the Board of Supervisors ordered the whole sum paid to Mr. Johnson. The Auditor also put his name on again, approving this second order for the payment. I again respectfully declined to pay. Then Mr. Johnson and I, as a mark of our personal esteem for one another, went down to the Honolulu Drug Store and had a 'drink' together.

"A little later County Attorney Douthitt appeared on the scene with the unhappy warrant, and asked my reasons for refusing payment. He had in his hand the written opinion which he had rendered to the Board of Supervisors on the matter, which he kindly allowed me to read. I saw that he had not touched the real point involved, and when I presented my side of the case to him he acknowledged that he had misunderstood the proposition when he wrote the opinion.

"I said a while ago that I was surprised when a blanket warrant was presented to me in the morning. I was more than surprised. Remembering the conversation I had had with Chairman Smith the day before, I was hurt at the unexpected denouement. I went up to Auditor Bicknell's office and asked him who had authorized him to issue the blanket warrant. He said the Board of Supervisors had authorized it. I told him I had received no notice of such authorization on the part of the Board. Then he said he had received his orders from a certain member (or members, I am not certain which). He declined to divulge names."

HOW TO BE COOL IN HOT WEATHER.

Experience has shown that there is but one way in which the discomfort of very hot weather may be mitigated, and that is by enough physical activity to start and maintain a wholesome perspiration. Absolutely the most uncomfortable way in which to pass a hot day is to be sluggish, and by that means pile up, so to speak, latent heat in muscles and tissues. The vaso-motor nerves and the secretory nerves of the sudoriferous glands are the thermostats of the body. Anything which starts an abundant perspiration carries off latent heat and minimizes the discomfort suffered.—New York Times.

DUCK POND MEN
CLAIM THE DAMS

SAY THEY HAVE USED THEM FOR SIXTEEN YEARS AND HAVE RIGHTS IN THEM.

An answer was filed yesterday afternoon in the case of Leong Sau et al vs Leong Pung et al, in which the rice plantation Chinese in Walkiki are seeking to prevent the duck pond men from further using dams of Pinalo stream, claiming that the dams are injuring the rice fields. R. W.
Breckons representing the plaintiffs and Lorin Andrews for the defendants had a conference during the afternoon seeking to reach an agreement. The answer to the complaint contains the following:

"The dams used by the defendants have been in existence for more than sixteen years for the purpose of draining and flushing the duck and fish ponds on the premises and for the irrigation of the banana and vegetable patches by means of which defendants are earning a livelihood. The use of the dams is limited to the flushing of the water on the premises and without such use it would be impossible to raise fishes and ducks in the ponds, and the premises would become un-sanitary and a public nuisance.

"The right to use the dams is an easement that passes with the leases of the premises and without such easement the premises would be worthless.

"During the sixteen years in which the defendants have used the dams, no complaint has ever been made to them or their predecessors about the dams, and the use of the dams does not and cannot affect the proper conduct of a rice or vegetable business situated in any place along the stream."

TRANSPORT LAWTON ARRIVED.

The naval transport Lawton arrived here yesterday afternoon from Guam and Manila. She encountered a hurricane between Manila and Guam but sustained no damage. She left Guam on July 20, after taking on a number of passengers. The vessel has as through passengers, 675 sailors who are going home from service about the Asiatic Station. Of the officers of the ship they are practically the same crowd that went out on the vessel several months ago. The vessel has a number of cabin passengers. She will take on 500 tons of coal at this place and have her engines overhauled. She is likely to get away on Saturday morning.
